

An Exelon Company

Kimberly A. Curry
Assistant General Counsel, Baltimore Gas and Electric Company

Kim Curry is an Assistant General Counsel with Baltimore Gas and Electric Company (BGE). In this role, Kim represents BGE on matters before the Maryland Public Service Commission, as well as in state and federal court, and has testified at the Maryland General Assembly on legislation impacting the company. Kim has litigated matters before the Maryland Public Service Commission and regularly provides legal advice to BGE executives and business units on state and federal energy and non-energy related matters including energy procurement, interconnections of renewable energy sources, collections, bankruptcy, data privacy, and consumer protections. Kim also provides legal support for BGE's limited income outreach unit and supplier diversity unit. Kim is co-chair of the Exelon Baltimore Legal Diversity and Inclusion committee.

Kim has performed pro bono work for nonprofit organizations that provide legal services for persons of limited means, including Kids in Need of Defense and FreeState Justice.

Prior to joining BGE, Kim was an associate in the Washington, D.C. office of Bracewell & Patterson, representing clients before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

Kim earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice from the University of Maryland in College Park, Maryland and her J.D. from the George Washington University Law School in Washington, D.C. Kim serves on the board of the Arc of the Central Chesapeake Region, which is a non-profit organization that provides services to individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities.
